After conferring with the parties and reviewing their submissions regarding the production of the source code at issue, the Court instructed the parties to: (1) review the protective order entered in *Datatrak International, Inc. v. The Court set a telephone conference in this case for Tuesday, February 17, 2015 at 11:30 a.m. (See February 12, 2015 Notice.) The parties shall be prepared to discuss whether the protective order from Datatrak is sufficient to govern the production of the source code in this case, including any issues that the parties were not able to resolve.
